Devoted to the Mining and Development of the Windermere and Golden Divisions of the District of North East Kootenay.

Book V., Chapter 35.

Wilmer, B. C., Thursday, January 26, 1905.

$2.00 Per Year.

DISTRICT CROPPINGS

The Kootenay Central Railway surveyors connected their location line on Monday with the line from the south and now the line is located all the way from the Crows Nest road to the main line of C. P. R. The survey party is now at Athalmer and it is said that after surveying a Y there they will survey back to Golden on the west side of the Columbia river. Although there has been a great deal of discussion locally anent the survey being made on the west side of the river in the past, now every person is satisfied that it will be made and the fellow who didn't know a thing about railway construction can take a smile all to himself and the people on the west side will "have a chance for existence."

It is reported that an important strike has been made at the Delphine mine, another high-grade ledge having been struck. The lease holders are aiming to take to the river before spring 100 tons of ore. The work of breaking the road is being continued and more miners are being added to the force employed.

Mrs. Pitts wishes it to be understood that she has declined to take part in the concert on Friday, Jan. 27, for the benefit of Mr. Smyth. —J. C. PITTS.

Weather—Balmly chinook.
The Provincial Legislature convenes on Thursday, Feb. 9.
"Billy", Haylmore is improving rapidly under Dr. Elliot's care.

Opposition is the life of trade even in society in the wild and woolly west.

E. J. Scovil, S. M., fined Gordon Farmer $8.75, including costs, for being drunk and disorderly last Saturday.

A Masquerade Ball is announced for February 14th in the Athalmer Hall and promises to be the event of the season.

Conundrum—If four surveyors capture the hearts of seventeen women, what will happen when the graders arrive?

It is reported that the owners of the Sinclair Hot Springs have prepared plans for the erection of an hotel on the property.

It has been arranged with W. C. Bennett to take a load of Wilmer people free to the Musicales At-Home tomorrow evening.

Windermere Special Correspondent: Mr. P. Patmore has been in town the last few days and attended church here on Sunday.

While rounding-up some horses on Tuesday of last week a horse kicked little Jimmy Mackay and broke his leg below the knee.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Lake entertained a large number of friends in the Athalmer Hall, the occasion being the departure of Master Percy Lake to attend College at Calgary. He leaves for that place on Friday, accompanied by Master Hope Brewer. The two boys have many friends in the district, who wish them success in their studies.

A mysterious society—The Fig Leaf.

A whole lot of women are wondering what they wore at the dance on the 17th.

Miss McNeil after visiting Miss Snook at Wilmer for a week returned to Sinclair Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Starbird spent several days last week at Fairmont visiting Mr. and Mrs. Brewer.

Friday morning Manager R. R. Bruce left for Golden en route to West Kootenay on a short business trip.

Miss Booth, Miss Ford and Miss Snook and Messrs. Cartwright and McDonald spent Saturday and Sunday at Fairmont.

Now is the time to order fruit trees and remember Deputy Minister Anderson's warning against agents. Read Henry's new ad. in this issue.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Brewer left Fairmont last Sunday to spend a few days visiting friends in Cranbrook. There is plenty of sunshine wherever this happy couple go and "Old Man Simpson" should have some fun for his readers.

Captain Mrs. Wm. Chamberlain hereby calls a meeting of the Wilmer Ladies' Rifle Association, at the Union Hotel, at 7:30 p.m., on Saturday next, the 28th inst., for the purpose of electing officers.

The ladies of Windermere wish to publicly thank all those who added their presence to the dance given on Friday, the 13th inst., and also to thank the musicians who kindly supplied the music. The sum of $23.65 was realised toward a piano for the Hall, making a total of $44.54 already on hand.—LADIES OF WINDERMERE.

GOLDEN NUGGETS

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Golden, B. C., Jan. 21.—

A number of Curlers intend leaving Golden on Sunday to attend the Calgary Bouspiel. The curling game last Wednesday evening was a good one, attended by a large number of enthusiastic on-lookers. General Togo-Parson's rink was victorious and after the conclusion of the game the members of the Club proceeded to the Columbia Hall, where a bountiful supper was provided and a merry time had until 3 a.m., when the host General Stoessel-Jones proposed the singing of "Auld Lang Syne", after which the gathering dispersed.

Thos. O'Brien returned from a four weeks trip to New York city on Thursday last, having had an enjoyable holiday.

The Fireman's dance held last evening in the Columbia Hall was quite successful, although the crowd was not as large as usual.

Mrs. Hume, of Firlands, arrived in town on Friday's stage and is registered at the Columbia House.

J. P. Jephson, barrister of Calgary, Alta., is spending a few days in town this week.

Captain Armstrong came down from Windermere on Wednesday last and will be in town about a week.

Jas. Towden left on this afternoon's (Saturday) train for Winnipeg.

The Golden Bouspiel is to be held on February 7th and 8th.

Alex. Ritchie was down from Wilmer this week and left Wednesday with a load of freight.

Columbia Lodge No. 38.

At the regular monthly meeting held last Friday evening in the Windermere hall Columbia Lodge No. 38, A. F. & A. M., held their annual installation and investiture of officers, when the following members were elected:

- Worshipful Master, P. Patmore.
- Senior Warden, J. S. Johnston.
- Junior Warden, A. R. Yates.
- Secretary, J. C. Pitts.
- Senior Deacon, E. J. Stoddart.
- Junior Deacon, E. N. Russell.
- Senior Steward, R. S. Gallop.
- Junior Steward, F. L. Snook.
- Inner Guard, Colin Cameron.
- Tyler, C. D. Ellis.

The meeting was well attended and afterwards a splendid supper was provided by the Windermere Hotel.

The columns of a newspaper furnish the means to the printer of earning a living, each line having a value, and people should not infringe on that space without paying for it any more than they would take goods from a merchant. Ofttimes the printer gives several dollars worth of free advertising to an entertainer and then he is charged admission to see the show. There are certain courtesies due the press—respect, don't abuse them. —Shocan Drill.

WINDEREMERE ITEMS

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The dance given by the Canadian Pacific Railroad Survey Party, in the Hall last Tuesday night was one of the most delightful ever given in Windermere, all points of the district being well represented, for the boys have made a great many friends on their way through the valley. The hall was artistically decorated for the occasion, the floor in excellent condition and the music all that could be desired, and as Messrs. Grant, Earl, Walker, Black, Parker, Morley and Allcorn were most untiring in their efforts to give all their guests a good time, there was nothing wanting to add to the pleasure of the evening. An excellent supper was served, after which, by special request, Mr. Earl, accompanied by Mrs. Smyth on the piano, gave several beautiful selections on the violin, which were greatly appreciated by those present.

On Friday night, January 27th, there is to be a Musicales At-Home in the Hall here. Many are looking forward with pleasure to what is sure to prove a very jolly evening. The committee have arranged a splendid musical program and also intend putting on a bright little operette, after which dancing will be indulged in.

OUR ORE SHIPMENTS

The Paradise shipped from 1st April, 1901, to 31st Dec., 1903, net tons 1610.49, the gross value of the metals, without smelter deductions, being $75,910.61.

The last shipment from the Tecumseh was 42,330 pounds for which the smelter returns show that the gross value was $1,500.88, without the lead bounty.

PLANTING AN ORCHARD

Communicated:

There is no business that requires a greater amount of intelligence than orchard growing. Experience is a prime requisite to success; that is, knowing what certain treatment will produce.

The climate being suitable, profitable orcharding depends more on the subsoil than on any other one thing. You can make the soil richer if it is not rich enough, but you cannot change the subsoil without great expense. Congenial subsoil and success. Improper subsoil and failure. These two sentences should be burned upon the memory of every fruit grower. Dig down under your soil in a hundred different places on the land you intend to plant and see what is below. A few dollars spent in this way may save you thousands in your orchard. The best subsoil is the loess formation. It allows the rains to sink deep into its bosom and there holds it until called for by the drouths of summer and the cold of winter. A fertile, porous subsoil is important above all other considerations. A gravelly shale or clay loam is next in order as to value, and can be found in many of our apple districts. A red clay shale with limestone soil and subsoil is also valuable. After subsoil, a good fertile soil, porous, loamy, with plenty of humus, potash and lime, so as to give fairly good crops of grain or grass, should be chosen. One that dries out quickly so that it can be plowed soon after a rain, that works easily so as to get best results with least labor, that will give a good crop of corn to be plowed under while growing the trees, one that will not bake too easily, is always desirable. Next comes a rocky or gravelly soil, which is good, but takes more work to get results. These are found in abundance in all mountain districts.

Location and exposure are not so important as elevation, although they should not be under-estimated. Elevation above the surrounding lands so as to get good air and drainage cannot be ignored, and yet keep out of the way of heavy winds. Elevation is important, because you get into cooler, drier, purer air. But this is not enough, if you have not also elevation above the surrounding lands, for you then have trouble with the cold air in the mountains the same as on lower lands at sea level. The northern slopes and exposures are always considered best. This is true because the best soils and subsoils are on these northern slopes, and not because of th location itself.

Unless the varieties are adapted to climate, soil, location, exposure and market, you plant in vain. This study of adaptability can reach conclusions only by actual experience. It is well to make the experience of others serve you. If a variety is at its best in one locality, then you should abide by this decision. But the fact that one variety does best in one part of your orchard and another variety in another part demands closest study. Watch for these variations and note why they are so, seeing if valuable, accurate conclusions cannot be drawn.

A peculiar sign of lead poisoning is known as "the dead line." This is a black deposit of lead sulphide between the inner surface of the gums and the teeth, and a late medical writer notes that it is almost invariably present whenever there is the slightest space between the gum and the teeth. The smallest distinct fragment is as significant as a large deposit.

Rev. Fraser will conduct services every Sunday in Windermere at 11 a. m. Athalmer at 3 p.m. and Wilmer at 8 p. m., excepting the first Sunday in each month, when he holds services at Galena.

WILMER, B.C., THURSDAY, JAN. 26, 1905.

The inventor of hockey should get a Victoria Cross. The man who patented a game that can drive the terrors out of a ten below zero night and replace them with all kinds of joyful anticipations and about half as many realizations should come in for a share of the King's birthday decorations.

The report of the Socialist members work for last year in the Provincial Legislature to their supporters does not give any hint whatever that they intend to upset the Mc-Bride administration, but shows very plainly that they are satisfied with their position. So they might well be for they may be a long time attaining so coveted a position in the years to come.

The American Institute of Mining Engineers has decided to hold its annual convention in Victoria, and have arranged to make a trip to Alaska and through this province. As railway construction will be in full swing in this valley when the engineers strike this province it should not be difficult to persuade some of them to come up the river. We could show them mines and mineral galore and some of the finest scenery in the world. It is worth the trying.

Many people in a new camp say they would like to encourage a newspaper publisher, but don't know how. It is easy. Every time you buy anything just remark that you did or did not see it advertised in the local paper. Occasionally write an article on some interesting subject, and always send in any news you have. Send a few copies to your friends and ask others to subscribe. These things make the fellow who works 12 hours a day as devel, pressman, compositor, reporter, proofreader and editor feel good, whereas he feels like a fool when you throw bouquets at him.

Slocan Drill: "The Slocan district no sooner gets rid of one trouble until another looms up larger than ever. It was thought the lead bounty would forever dissipate the difficulties surrounding the mining industry, but instead it seems to have aroused covetous feelings in those corporations dependent upon that industry. Mine owners assert the smelters have persistently raised their rates for treating ores, and the latter are getting the major portion of the $15 bounty on lead. They claim they can ship to Europe, and that the charges of freight, treatment, refining and marketing won't be $3 per ton more than local smelters are charging resident ores. The Drill has been reliably informed that unless the smelters abate what are alleged to be excessive charges, the output from the Slocan for 1905 will be greatly restricted. Those mines having contracts with the smelters to June 30 will fill them, but after that date will demand new rates for treatment. It is believed the Marysville smelter, now nearing completion, will be an active purchaser of ores, and, if so, there is some relief in sight. Failing that the Slocan will have another hard luck year." The Drill usually sees through a Conservative glass darkly at anything the Liberal Government has done and this may be a strike at the lead bounty, but if it is not and the trouble cannot be remedied by the lead bounty act, then it is another strong argument in favor of government-ownership. One government-owned smelter in B. C. would prove many things to the benefit of our miners.

Idylls of The Selkirks.

OCTOBER.

BY REV. C. F. YATES.

Oh, who would away from the foothills stay,
When October sounds the horn,
That the Chieftains bold—the Red and Gold;
Are to crag and canyon born!

Up, up, my dogs! for the fleecy fogs,
That blanketed lake and dune,
Are scampering wide up the mountain side
In chase of the vanished moon.

Apollo speaks to the higher peaks,
Where the Vesper snow fell soft,
In a moment more and a full half score
Will be tossing their night-caps off.

And Paddy—old dog—we know of a bog,
Where the rushes grow breast-high;
Where the muskrat nests, and the downy breasts
Of the wary mallard lie.

That glist of the frost on the log we crossed
Shows the mark of the rabbits paw;
So a chevy wide where the brooks divide
And we'll bag him there in the "draw".

Steady all! I ween the scent is keen,
Where a willow-grouse crossed the trail;
For its nose to the ground and a merry-go-round,
Of the stub that serves for a tail.

Now a three-mile walk,—and a half-hour's talk
To the ducks from a "number ten",—
Then the homeward track, and the gloomy wrack,
Of a village parson's den.

Yet we fain would stay by the heath all day,
When October blows the horn;
That the Chieftains old—the Red and Gold,
Are again to the manor born.

SOME PHILOSOPHY

We wonder and we wonder
What's ahead;
What we'll see, and how we'll see it,
When we're dead.
If it's worth the while, or worthless,
Foul or fair;
And we wonder how we'll know it
When we're there.

We ponder and we ponder
What's to come,
And of all the good about us
We are dumb,
When we all might be enjoying
What is here
We are guessing if the future's
Full of fear.

We worry and we worry
Over fate,
When we'll answer that conundrum
Soon or late.
What's the good to guess if it be
Smooth or rough?
What's the use? we'll know the answer
Soon enough.

We wonder and we wonder
In the dark
And we can't, with all our guessing,
Raise a spark.
Let us, then, enjoy our living
Ere we flit—
And the future, let us make
The best of it.

—Leu Vernon.

UNDER HIGH PRESSURE

A man can breathe and exist best at the normal atmospheric pressure of 30 inches of mercury, equal to 14.72 pounds per square inch. He can barely exist at a height of seven miles, where the pressure is only one-quarter of that at the surface of the earth. A man can breathe and work for some hours under a pressure of 2½ atmospheres, or 37½ pounds per square inch, as in a diving bell, but under a greater pressure paralysis may be produced. Work was done at the St. Louis, Mo., bridge by men under a pressure of four atmospheres—63.7 pounds per square inch.

BOTH WERE WORRIED

A certain man owed another man $10. It was due on Tuesday. At midnight on Monday night, the man, who owed the money came around, woke his friend up and told him he couldn't pay the bill.

"It worried me so I couldn't sleep and so I just thought I'd tell you now," he said.

"Dern it" said the other man, "why didn't you wait till morning? Now I can't sleep, either".

It is a strange thing, but we never seem to meet with the rules that work both ways except when they work against us.
